

INSTITUTO MAUÁ DE TECNOLOGIA - IMT

GUIDELINES FOR FOREIGN STUDENTS

1. WELCOME TO INSTITUTO MAUÁ DE TECNOLOGIA

1.1 GET TO KNOW IMT

Instituto Mauá de Tecnologia - IMT is a private, non-profit public organization dedicated to teaching and scientific and technological research, aiming to provide highly qualified human resources to contribute to the socioeconomic development of Brazil.

Established in December 1961, IMT has created and maintains the Technical Services and Tests Center and the Centro Universitário and has two campuses: one in São Caetano do Sul and the other in São Paulo city.

The Centro Universitário of Instituto Mauá de Tecnologia (CEUN-IMT) offers undergraduate courses in Business Administration, Design, Food Engineering, Civil Engineering, Computational Engineering, Control and Automation Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Electronic Engineering, Mechanical Engineering, Production Engineering and Chemical Engineering, as well as post-graduate specialization courses and master's and doctoral degree programs.

The Research Center was created 50 years ago aiming to provide industries with quality control of products and processes. To that end, a laboratory infrastructure was set up for testing and analysis. In a second moment, it started providing technological support to companies to improve processes, products and services, as well as to perform research and development in several areas of Engineering, excelling as a technological development center in several areas of expertise and offering innovative solutions to companies in the industrial and service sectors.

1.2 MISSION

To promote excellence in Teaching, Research and Continuing Education, leading our community to entrepreneurial and innovative actions, providing opportunities for our members to be the protagonists of their own professional and personal development, positively influencing society.

1.3 VISION

3. SÃO PAULO CITY

3.1 GET TO KNOW SÃO PAULO

São Paulo is a Brazilian city, the capital of the State of São Paulo, and the main financial, corporate and trade center of South America. Meticulously designed by several nationalities, cultures, beliefs, backgrounds and ideals, this great metropolis is truly cosmopolitan, by either vocation or adoption. It is Italian, German, Jewish, Portuguese, Japanese, Chinese, French, African, Arabic, Spanish, Latin, Brazilian, and local. These and many other features are present in the architecture of the buildings, the streets, the refined tastes of their gastronomic suggestions and in customs and mannerisms of a people who never stops and boldly writes the history of the city every day.

Its greatness can be described in many ways. It is worth mentioning that it boasts the largest hotel complex in Latin America, the most complete hospital center in Brazil, and the largest Brazilian cultural center as well. It is also one of the international capitals of gastronomy, a fixed destination for major world renowned events, fairs and exhibitions, the seat of distinguished research and academic centers, among many other references.

3.2 MAIN TOURIST ATTRACTIONS OF THE CITY

São Paulo city has some tourist attractions, including the following:

Parque do Ibirapuera (Ibirapuera Park): the park has a jogging track, a playground, snack bars, seating areas, a bike lane, a bike parking area with rental service, a multimedia fountain, multi-sports courts, soccer fields, fitness apparatuses and the Burle Marx Square.

The park also boasts: a gardening school, Fauna Division, Viveiro Manequinho Lopes (Manequinho Lopes Seedling Nursery), Planetarium and Municipal Astrophysics School, UMAPAZ, Herbarium, Africa-Brazil Museum, CECCO (SMS), Brazilian Cultures Pavilion, OCA and Reading Woods (SMC), Fundação Bienal (Bienal Foundation), the Ibirapuera Auditorium, MAC, MAM and the Japanese Pavilion.

Get off at 140, Mal. Maurício Cardoso St. and walk to the park (approx. 550 m).

✓ Theatro Municipal (Municipal Theater): it was created cradling the dreams of a city booming with industries and coffee, which did not want to fall short in comparison to the world's major cultural centers from the beginning of the 20th century. As in 1898 the city had lost the stage of its major artistic manifestations - the São José Theater - to a fire, it became imperative to build a space suitable to the major foreign theater companies.

The architect Ramos de Azevedo and the Italians Cláudio Rossi and Domiziano Rossi began its construction in 1903, and on September 12, 1911, Theatro Municipal was opened to a crowd of 20,000 people pushing and elbowing at its doors. Thus São Paulo was integrated to the roadmap of major international shows.

Praça Ramos de Azevedo (Ramos de Azevedo Square)
República - Downtown - São Paulo
(near República or Anhangabaú subway stations).

Opening hours: Box office - from Monday to Friday, from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.
Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. pm or until showtime.
Phone: +55 (11) 3053-2100.

With 1,027 employees and a 52,500m² (565,105 Sq Ft) floor space, it produces 594 million copies of magazines, supplements, special editions, catalogs and tabloids annually. Abril Print Shop is considered the largest print shop in Latin America by production volume, being the only one using the rotogravure process for printing publications. It operates entirely filmless, generating Computer-to-Plate plates, and Electro-Mechanical Cylinder Engraving, processes that accelerate the production and provide even better printing quality. It is the first Brazilian printing company to have an inventory of greenhouse gases emissions, the first one to adopt the methodology of the GHG protocol, and to receive international awards granted for environmental impact reduction, in addition to the FSC (Forest Stewardship Council) and CERFLOR/ PEFC (Brazilian Forest Certification System/Program for the Endorsement of Forest Certification Schemes) certifications.

Visits must be scheduled by e-mail herica.pereira@abril.com.br.

4 MEASUREMENT CONVERSION

4.1 DISTANCE

Distance is measured in kilometers in Brazil.

1 mile is equal to 1.61 km / 1 km is equal to 0.62 miles

4.2 TEMPERATURE

The temperature is measured in degrees Celsius.

In order to convert it to degrees Fahrenheit, it is necessary to multiply the temperature in degrees Celsius by 1.8 and add 32 to the result.

E.g.: $25^{\circ}\text{C} \times 1,8 = 45$. Then, add $45 + 32 = 77$. Therefore, 25°C equals 77°F .
